Financial, administrative and budgetary matters

Information on United Nations system technical cooperation expenditures, 2007

Summary

The present report on the financial aspects of the United Nations system technical cooperation provides a summary of expenditure incurred, and contributions received, for the 2007 fiscal year. The report focuses on the technical cooperation provided by UNDP, UNFPA, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), the World Food Programme (WFP) and other specialized agencies, funds and programmes.

For the purposes of this report, technical cooperation assistance is defined as the sum of field programme expenditure and the general management service charge for UNDP, but this may be excluded for other organizations such as WFP. The World Bank/International Development Association (IDA) is excluded from this definition of technical cooperation, as its contributions are viewed as free-standing grant-free assistance, aimed at expanding the 'software' aspects of development. The World Bank/IDA does, however, offer a category of assistance specifically geared to backstop its large-scale programmes and projects. A comprehensive breakdown is presented in table 23 of the document referred to in paragraph 26 of this report.

The analysis provided in this document is based on the data shown at the end of this report and contained in the addendum (DP/2008/40/Add.1).

Elements of a decision

The Executive Board may wish to take note of the present report.

I. Highlights

1. The United Nations system identified the achievement of eight designated Millennium Development Goals to be a key focus for all organizations. In 2007, delivery of technical cooperation on the Goals, across the United Nations system (excluding the World Bank Group) and programme countries, was $13.0 billion. That figure represents a 6.5 per cent increase in the level of expenditure over the $12.2 billion spent during the previous year. The summary statistics on technical cooperation expenditure incurred, and contributions received, over the five-year period 2003-2007, present a historical perspective of multi-year trends.

2. Executing and specialized agencies reported an increase of 14 per cent in delivery, from $3.1 billion in 2006 to $3.5 billion in 2007. UNDP experienced a 4.5 per cent decrease in delivery, from $4.0 billion in 2006 to $3.9 billion in 2007. WFP reported an increase in technical assistance delivery of 3.3 per cent from $2.7 billion in 2006 to $2.8 billion in 2007. UNICEF reported an increase of 18.2 per cent, from $2.1 billion in 2006 to $2.4 billion in 2007. UNFPA reported an increase of 21.8 per cent, from $392.1 million in 2006 to $477.8 million in 2007. An analysis of the 5-year growth of technical cooperation delivered by the agencies, funds and programmes is shown in figures 1 and 2.

3. World Bank/IDA assistance to developing nations in 2007 amounted to $227.2 million. This represented an increase of 40 per cent due to an increase in allocation at the country level, over the 2006 figure of $162.3 million. Beginning in 1998, the World Bank/IDA took the decision to stop recording expenditures specifically for technical cooperation activities. Thereafter, summary data submitted represented a combination of loans and grants related to assistance preceding, or combined with, large-scale programmes and projects.

(in millions of dollars)

4. In 2007 total technical cooperation delivered was $13.0 billion. UNDP central resources and its administered funds accounted for $3.9 billion of total expenditure, equivalent to 29 per cent of total delivered technical cooperation. In 2007, WFP reported delivery of $2.7 billion, or 21 per cent of total technical cooperation. UNICEF reported $2.4 billion, equivalent to 19 per cent; and UNFPA reported $478 million, or 4 per cent of total delivered technical cooperation. The combined balance of the other specialized agencies, funds and programmes was $3.5 billion, equal to approximately 27 per cent of the total technical cooperation delivered.

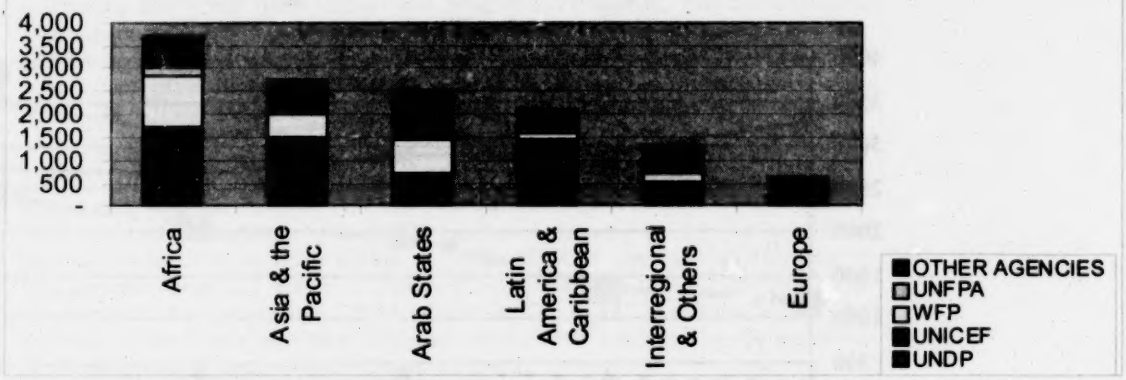
(in millions of dollars)



5. As shown in figure 3, above, technical cooperation was distributed among the five major regions: Africa – $3.7 billion equivalent to 28 per cent; Asia and the Pacific – $2.8 billion equal to 21 per cent; Arab States – $2.5 billion, or 19 per cent; Latin America and the Caribbean – approximately $2.1 billion, equivalent to 16 per cent; Europe – $0.6 billion, equal to 5 per cent; and interregional, global and other initiatives – $1.3 billion, equivalent to 11 per cent.

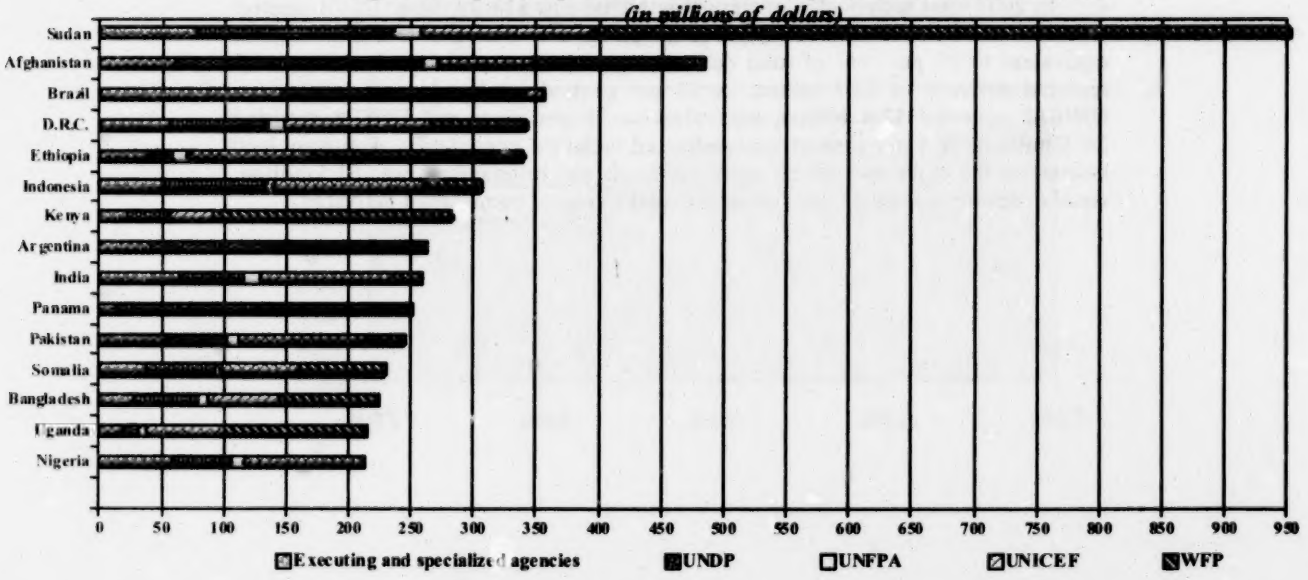
(in millions of dollars)



6. The top three recipients of the total technical cooperation delivered were Sudan, with a total of $982.7 million; Afghanistan, with $482.2 million; and Brazil, with $354.4 million. This amounts to $1.8 billion, or 14 per cent out of the total of $13.0 billion. The Democratic Republic of the Congo and Ethiopia were among the top five recipients, with $340.3 million and $337.9 million, respectively. Figure 4 shows the top 15 recipients of technical cooperation assistance in order of delivery by the United Nations system.

7. The United Nations specialized agencies, funds and programmes continued to facilitate development assistance in programme countries. In 2007, delivery of technical assistance to the United Nations system funds and programmes increased by 6.5 per cent over the 2006 level of $12.2 billion, to $13.0 billion. UNICEF spent $2.4 billion in pursuit of the enhancement of child services and programmes; WFP expended $2.7 billion on facilitating food aid; and in keeping with its mandate, UNFPA focused on population projects and programmes, which totalled $477.8 million. UNDP delivered a total of $3.9 billion dollars in technical assistance, which was composed of allocations from its central resources ($2.8 billion) and administered funds ($1.1 billion).

8. Spending among sectors ranged, in order of priority, from the humanitarian sector, receiving $3.2 billion, or 25 per cent; to health, at approximately $2.3 billion, or 18 per cent; general development, at just under $2.3 billion, equivalent to 17 per cent; education, $1.0 billion, or 8 per cent; and agriculture, forestry and fisheries, $647.0 million, equivalent to 5 per cent. Aggregate expenditure within those five sectors was $9.5 billion, or 73 per cent. The balance of the funds was spread among 15 sectors for approximately $3.5 billion, equivalent to 27 per cent of the total $13.0 billion in technical cooperation delivered.

II. Analysis of technical cooperation by organization

A. Other specialized agencies, funds and programmes

9. Expenditures funded from regular budgets rose from $380.3 million in 2006 to $470.8 million in 2007. This represents an increase of just under than 24 per cent. Additionally, expenditures funded from extra-budgetary sources other than UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP increased from $2.7 billion in 2006 to $3.0 billion, representing a 13 per cent rise in delivery. Combined, the specialized agencies, funds and programmes reported increases in programme delivery of around 14 per cent.

10. At the country level, Sudan continued to account for the highest proportion of resources provided by United Nations specialized agencies, funds and programmes. Within this category, the total technical cooperation delivered was $76.9 million out of the available pool of $3.5 billion, equivalent to approximately 2 per cent. India and Guatemala followed, with expenditure amounting to $64.9 and $64.1 million, respectively. Iraq and Afghanistan accounted for a total of $123.5 million to complete the five top programme countries in receipt of $329.4, or 9 per cent of the total funding available.

11. In 2007, contributions received within the United Nations system to provide technical assistance through its specialized agencies, funds and programmes saw an overall increase, from $3.5 billion in 2006 to $4.1 billion in 2007, or an 18 per cent increase in net income. This was divided within the two major categories (bilateral and multilateral) for which contributions are reported. Contributions to the bilateral category rose from $2.3 billion to $3 billion, or 33 per cent, in 2007. Within this category, countries/territories received a total of $2.2 billion, 30 per cent over the $1.7 billion received in 2006. Non-governmental organizations received $437 million, which is a 126 per cent increase compared to the $193.6 million received in 2006. However, unilateral self-supporting contributions accounted for $348.9 million – a 1 per cent decline when compared to the amount received in 2006 ($351 million).

12. In the multilateral category, resources declined 11.6 per cent in 2007, from $1.2 billion in 2006 to $1.0 billion in the current year. Within that category, receipts to the United Nations system amounted to $523.8 million, an increase of 80 per cent over that received in 2006 of $291.2 million. However, contributions to non-United Nations system measures dropped from $912.6 million in 2006 to $540.4 million, a decrease of 41 per cent.

B. United Nations Development Programme

13. UNDP supports national processes to accelerate the progress of human development with a view to eradicating poverty through development, equitable and sustained economic growth, and capacity development. This means that all UNDP policy advice, technical support, advocacy, and contributions to strengthening coherence in global development must be aimed at one end result: real improvements in people's lives and in the choices and opportunities open to them. UNDP has championed this integrative approach to human development since the 1990s, using the human development reports as important advocacy tools. Central to the human development approach is the concept of human empowerment, which, in addition to income, treats access to education and health care, freedom of expression, the rule of law, respect for diversity, protection from violence, and the preservation of the environment as essential dimensions of human development and well-being.

14. At the request of governments, UNDP seeks to strengthen national capacities in four areas of comparative advantage aligned with the values and objectives of the Millennium Declaration: poverty eradication and internationally agreed upon development goals, including the MDGs; democratic governance; crisis prevention and recovery; and environment and sustainable development.

15. UNDP programme delivery rose from $1.7 billion in 2003 to $2 billion in 2004, then to $2.5 billion in 2005 and $2.8 billion in 2006 and 2007. Expenditure from UNDP central and administered funds was $3.9 billion in 2007; this was a 4.5 per cent decrease from the amount expended in 2006 ($4 billion). Expenditure funded from regular resources increased by 1 per cent over the amount reported in 2006, rising from $532.6 million to $536.7 million. Third-party cost-sharing rose from $842.7 million in 2006 to $974.0 in 2007 – a 15.6 per cent increase.

16. Voluntary contributions rose from $916.3 million in 2006 to $1.1 billion in 2007, representing an increase of 21 per cent. An analysis of growth trends beginning in 2003 showed a consistent rise in contributions to UNDP, recorded as follows: 2003, $762.4 million; 2004, $833.4 million; and 2005, $914.5 million. Income received in 2007 was the largest recorded in the last five years.

C. World Food Programme

17. In 2007, WFP technical cooperation expenditure showed an increase from the amount recorded in 2006 of $2.7 billion to $2.8 billion, equivalent to 3.3 per cent. The five-year trend, 2003-2007, shows that WFP recorded technical cooperation expenditure of $3.3 billion, $2.9 billion, $2.9 billion, $2.7 billion and $2.8 billion.

18. WFP focused its resources on humanitarian assistance. In 2007 WFP expended $1.6 billion, or 60 per cent of its resources, in the humanitarian assistance sector. Within the Africa region, five countries accounted for $646.4 million, or 23 per cent of WFP expenditure, namely, Kenya, $190.3 million; Ethiopia, $168.9 million; Uganda, $113.1 million; Zimbabwe, $97.9 million; and the Democratic Republic of the Congo, $76.2 million. The Asia and the Pacific region was the next largest recipient, with Afghanistan receiving $133.7 million; Bangladesh, $79.4 million; Indonesia, $45 million; and Sri Lanka $43.0 million, followed by Thailand, with $39.7 million.

19. Voluntary contributions to WFP for the 2007 fiscal year were $2.8 billion, an increase of 4 per cent over the $2.7 billion received in 2006. Except for 2004, for which a $1.9 million decline in contributions was noted, WFP has shown consistent growth in funding, having received $2.5 billion in 2003, $2.6 billion in 2005, $2.7 billion in 2006 and $2.8 billion in 2007.

D. United Nations Children's Fund

20. UNICEF technical cooperation expenditure increased from $2.1 billion in 2006 to $2.4 billion in 2007, an increase of 18 per cent. An analysis of the five-year trend of UNICEF participation in technical cooperation expenditure showed a trajectory from $1.2 billion in 2003 to $2.4 billion in 2007. For greater detail, reference may be made to table 14 of document DP/2008/40/Add.1. UNICEF surpassed the $1 billion level in technical cooperation delivery for the fifth consecutive year. UNICEF directed $692.9 million of its resources to the humanitarian sector, followed by $640.3 million to the health sector and $529.8 million to general development issues. In 2007 those three sectors combined accounted for $1.9 billion, or 76 per cent of funds expended on UNICEF activities.

21. In 2007, technical cooperation provided to the African region amounted to $1.0 billion, equivalent to 41 per cent of the total UNICEF delivery. The five major recipient countries were: Democratic Republic of the Congo, $115.8 million; Ethiopia, $98.1 million; Nigeria, $94.7 million; Uganda, $61.7 million; and Angola, 51.7 million. The Asia and the Pacific region followed, with $686.2 million, or 28 per cent of total technical cooperation delivered. The five highest recipient countries within that region were: Indonesia, $119.8 million; India, $107.1 million; Pakistan, $101.6 million; Afghanistan, $78.3 million; and Bangladesh, $56.4 million. Those two regions combined received $1.7 billion, or 69 per cent of overall assistance.

22. The five year trend in voluntary contributions directed to UNICEF was as follows: 2003, $1.1 billion; 2004, $1.5 billion; 2005, $2.5 billion; and 2006, $2.7 billion, the highest level being recorded in 2007 – $2.9 billion. For the 2007 fiscal year, the increase in contributions to UNICEF was 11 per cent over the amount received in the prior year.

E. United Nations Population Fund

23. UNFPA technical cooperation expenditure in support of its mission increased from $392.1 million in 2006 to $477.8 million in 2007, an increase of 22 per cent.

24. That significant rise in programme delivery was shared among the five regions with the African and Asia and the Pacific region receiving $129.4 million and $79.8 million respectively, amounting to $209.2 million – 44 per cent of the total technical cooperation delivered. The five top recipient countries, in order of expenditure, were: Mozambique, with $27.0 million; Sudan, with $21.6 million; the Democratic Republic of the Congo, with $13.9 million; India, with $13.5 million; and Peru, with $12.8 million.

25. For the 2007 fiscal year, UNFPA received a total of $673.9 million in voluntary contributions, an increase of 27 per cent over the $529.1 million received the previous year. For the five-year period beginning in 2003, voluntary contributions to UNFPA were: $334.6 million in 2003, $406.6 million in 2004, $483.8 million in 2005, $529.1 million in 2006, and $673.9 million in 2007.

F. The World Bank/International Development Association

26. The World Bank group resumed reporting in 2006. In place of specifically targeted expenditures for technical cooperation activities, the World Bank group uses a combination of loans and grants related to assistance preceding, or combined with, large-scale programmes and projects. Funding for these activities is often provided through: (a) learning and innovation loans; (b) technical assistance loans; (c) institutional development funds; and (d) the development grant facility. For a further breakdown of the World Bank group allocation of resources, reference may be made to table 23 of document DP/2008/40/Add.1.

27. The World Bank group reported total expenditure of $227.2 million, which is a 40 per cent increase over the $162.3 million reported in the prior year. The Bank issued resources in the amount of $96.4 million during 2007 as compared to $90.8 million in 2006 – an increase of 6 per cent. In 2007, IDA resources were $130.8 million compared to $71.5 million expended in 2006 – an increase of 83 per cent.

b/ After a two-year lapse, the World Bank submitted 2003 data.

Note: Contribution data refer to regular resources from contributions by Member States. Voluntary contributions comprise only one element of total income. In the case of UNDP, the elements other than this are: cost-sharing; funds and trust funds; government cash counterpart contributions; contributions to local office costs; extra-budgetary activities; and management. In the case of UNICEF, other elements of income include various private sources, inter-organizational arrangements and miscellaneous.

Note on the data

A. Mandate

1. In its decision 81/34 of 27 June 1981, the Governing Council requested that the Administrator continue to provide data on the magnitude and composition of technical cooperation activities funded by organizations of the United Nations system.

B. Presentation of the data

2. The raw data submitted by United Nations organizations for 2007 were checked for consistency and accuracy prior to processing and presentation. The data contained in tables 1 through 11 are shown at both summary and detailed level. Tables 1 through 8 provide information on technical cooperation expenditures, while tables 9, 10 and 11 reflect contributions. Tables 12 through 15 provide information specifically on UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP over the five year period 2003-2007. Tables 16 through 22 report historical data on both contributions received and expenditures incurred since 1982 up to the present time. World Bank and IDA are presented in table 23.

3. Table 1 presents a summary of technical cooperation expenditures by source organizations of the United Nations system. Table 2 presents this data in the context of the ACC (Administrative Committee on Coordination) programme classification categories or sectors. These tables provide information at the aggregate level.

4. Table 3 presents an overview of the technical cooperation expenditures by executing agencies in the United Nations system. For each United Nations organization, expenditures are broken down according to category: Regular budget - (A); United Nations system extra-budgetary sources other than UNDP - (B1); non-United Nations system multilateral sources - (B2); bilateral sources channelled through the United Nations system - (C1); and unilateral "self-supporting" sources - (C2). All expenditures by UNDP, UNICEF, UNFPA and WFP are classified as (B1) expenditures, distributed according to sector. While this may appear to imply that these entities were directly responsible for the implementation of their entire programme, this is not necessarily the case; the aim is simply to preserve tractability and minimize double counting.

5. Tables 4 through 8 provide a detailed analysis of the organization's expenditure categories, regions and recipient countries categorized by sectors in table 3. Specifically, table 4 breaks down regular budget expenditures as described in - (A) above by country and organization. This makes it possible to ascertain the amount of regular budgetary expenditure incurred by a given organization in a given country.

6. Table 5 provides information on the distribution of expenditure of all non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B2), by country and organization.

Normally the total in this table agrees with that of line B2 at the end of table 3 and at the extreme right column of the row. However, there may be instances where there may be a difference due to reporting anomalies in the presentation and/or interpretation of the data provided by the source organization.

7. Table 6 identified by (C1) in table 3 reflects the detailed breakdown by country and organization of bilateral resources channelled to the United Nations executing organizations and specialized agencies. The distribution by country and organization of unilateral expenditure (C2) routed to executing organizations and specialized agencies and back to the contributing countries is shown by the "self-supporting expenditures" column of table 8; the total of this column is in agreement with the amount reflected in the extreme right column of line (C2) of table 3.

8. Table 9 provides data on extra-budgetary contributions to the executing organizations and specialized agencies, organized under the following headings: unilateral and bilateral sources (country or territory and NGOs) and multilateral sources (United Nations system and non-United Nations system). Contributions received by executing organizations and specialized agencies to fund "self-supporting" technical cooperation expenditures are presented in table 10.

9. The remaining tables contain historical data with varying time periods between 1982 and 2007. Contributions to and expenditure by UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF, and WFP from 2003 to 2007 are provided in tables 11 through 15. Technical cooperation expenditure, nominal amounts and rates of growth by the entire United Nations system for the period 1982 to 2007 are found in tables 16 and 17. Tables 18 and 19 reflect historical data on regular and extra-budgetary expenditure by executing organizations and specialized agencies. Tables 20 and 21 provide historical data and rates of growth of extra-budgetary contributions to executing organizations and specialized agencies. Table 22 reports historical summary data on voluntary contributions received by UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF and WPF. Table 23 reflects 2007 data relating to World Bank and IDA assistance.

C. Caveats

10. Use of the data in the present document may be guided by the application of the following caveats:

(a) Scope. The data on expenditure/contributions refer only to those for technical cooperation. The report defines technical cooperation activities to include the work of UNDP, executing organizations and specialized agencies, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP.

(b) Expenditure coverage. All expenditure data refer to the field programme activities of the entities concerned. All expenditure data are net of administrative, support and other costs. Expenditure data thus refer to the actual amount of resources directly invested in developmental activities, which are classified here and in document DP/2008/40 as field programme expenditure. The only exception is WHO, whose expenditure is inclusive of those other costs.

(c) The World Bank and the International Development Association. In 1998 there was a shift in orientation and focus within the World Bank and IDA. These institutions would no longer specifically attempt to capture the technical assistance components of their projects. This decision resulted in the introduction of a new lending instrument: learning and innovations loans (LILs). LILs provide structured support for small, time-sensitive projects. They are often used as companions to structural adjustment loans to address long-term capacity-building issues that are linked to economic policy reform. All data submitted by the World Bank and IDA for 2007 are presented in a separate table (table 23), which is new to this report.

(e) Contributions – Organizations. Data on contributions by United Nations organizations refer to extra-budgetary contributions only; regular budgetary contributions are not included in the report. Based on this premise, contribution data on United Nations organizations must not be equated with income.

(f) Contributions – UNDP and UNFPA. Data on contributions to UNDP and UNFPA refer to voluntary contributions to regular resources only. In the case of UNDP, cost-sharing, contributions to local office costs, government cash counterpart contributions, funds and trust funds, management services agreements and miscellaneous contributions have been excluded from the total. For both entities, voluntary contributions are not the same as total contributions or total income.

(g) Contributions – UNICEF. Contribution data refer to voluntary contributions to regular resources from Governments, the private sector and inter-organizational sources; contributions are not the same as total income.

D. Terminology

11. The utility of the data contained in this addendum can be significantly enhanced through an understanding of the terminology employed. The most important definitions and concepts are given below.

12. Technical cooperation activities. These are activities that aim to promote increasing self-reliance and thus strengthen the conditions necessary for sustainable human development. All United Nations organizations reviewed in the present report (with the exception of the World Bank and the IDA, to some extent) are considered to engage in technical cooperation activities.

13. Regular budget expenditures. These refer to technical cooperation expenditures of executing organizations and specialized agencies financed from assessed budgets (i.e., contributions). Table 4 in the statistical annex contains detailed data on the regular budget expenditures of United Nations organizations. UNDP, UNICEF, UNFPA and WFP do not have regular budget expenditures because contributions are entirely voluntary.

14. Extra-budgetary expenditures. As distinct from regular budget contributions, these refer to expenditures by United Nations organizations financed from voluntary contributions originating from multilateral and bilateral sources.

15. Multilateral. Multilateral sources are divided into: (a) United Nations system (B1); and (b) multilateral sources outside the United Nations system (B2).

Total B1 (see table 3) expenditure comprises organization B1 expenditures and rest-of-system B1 expenditures, excluding the World Bank and IDA. Organization B1 expenditures fund technical cooperation activities from resources available within the United Nations system. Considerable efforts have been made to avoid the problem of double-counting – counting a payment and/or a receipt twice. Rest-of-system B1 comprises expenditures from UNDP, UNICEF, UNFPA and WFP.

16. Bilateral. Bilateral extra-budgetary expenditures are also grouped into two categories: (a) non-United Nations system sources (C1); and (b) unilateral self-supporting sources. The former comprises expenditures incurred against resources provided directly to a United Nations organization by a Member State or an NGO to fund technical cooperation activities in developing countries. The term "unilateral" indicates that such expenditures finance activities within the developing country that made the contribution to the United Nations system. Unilateral expenditures are thus passed from the developing country to the United Nations system and back to the same developing country.

17. Agency extra-budgetary contributions. These are used to fund extra-budgetary expenditures. Extra-budgetary contributions are voluntary contributions, which may be tied to a specific purpose or geographic location and which are divided in two broad groups: bilateral and multilateral. Bilateral contributions are broken down into: (a) contributions from countries and territories, representing funds donated to the United Nations system to support activities in developing countries; (b) contributions from NGOs to the United Nations system; and (c) unilateral self-supporting contributions, made by a country to finance technical cooperation activities in that country. Multilateral contributions are subdivided into: (a) contributions from the United Nations system and (b) contributions originating outside the United Nations system, made by multilateral organizations that are not part of the United Nations system. Examples of such organizations are the African Development Bank and the Arab Gulf Programme for United Nations Development Organizations.

a/ Total expenditure from Agency regular budget reflects data contained in table 4 of this statistical annex. It shows an increase of 24% over the 2006 figure of $380,292.

b/ Agency Extra-budgetry expenditure reports total amounts contained in tables 5,6, and7 less the amounts reported by UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP. Note that the total amount in this column is not the same as the total amount in the column entitled "Funded by extrabudgetary sources other than UNDP, UNDP-administered funds, UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP of tables 1 and 2 since it excludes self-supporting expenditures.

c/ Reports expenditures against WFP general resources and special trust funds in support of programmes and projects of developing countries. It excludes programme support costs and administrative costs.

d/ Reflects expenditure incurred for UNDP central resources and cost-sharing and trust funds established by the Administrator, where applicable.

e/ The table showing breakdown by agency may be obtained on request from UNDP.

a/ The figures in this table have been rounded and may not agree exactly with those of the other tables in this and previous reports.
b/ WFP reported revised expenditure figures for 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999 and 2000 and 2001.
c/ Although 2003 World Bank data is not representative of technical cooperation per se, it is nevertheless included in this table. For 2007 only amount pertinent to World Bank and IDA lending instruments are captured in this report. Grants equivalent to 192,662 are excluded. See note below.
d/ "Total United Nations system (1)" includes the World Bank and IDA; "Total United Nations system (2)" excludes the World Bank and IDA.

Note: Beginning 1998, the World Bank/IDA does not report technical cooperation expenditure (see "Note on the data" for explanation). This caveat should be borne in mind when using the amounts reported in the column "Total United Nations system (1)" after 1998.

a/ The figures in this table have been rounded and may not agree exactly with those of the other tables in this and previous reports.

b/ Please note that the growth of nominal technical cooperation expenditure in 2003 could not be computed for the World Bank and IDA, as no data was submitted for 2001 and 2002.

c/ "Total United Nations system (1)" includes the World Bank and IDA; "Total United Nations system (2)" excludes the World Bank and IDA.

Note: Beginning 1998, the World Bank/IDA does not report technical cooperation expenditure (see "Note on the data" for explanation). This caveat should be borne in mind when using the amounts reported in the column "Total United Nations system (1)" after 1998.

d/ For 2006 computation of percentages for World Bank and IDA percentage is not included due to the lack of same in the prior years.

Amendment of UNDP financial regulations and rules regarding ex-gratia payments*

Summary

In the aftermath of the bombing in Algiers it was evident to UNDP that in certain circumstances ex-gratia payments may need to exceed the limit currently set in our Financial Regulations and Rules. UNDP feels that it would be important to be able to respond appropriately should there be another crisis in the future.

UNDP is requesting the Executive Board to approve an amendment to its Financial Regulation 23.01 in order to permit ex-gratia payments in excess of the current limit of $50,000. UNDP would also like to inform the Board that it is changing its Financial Rule 123.01 (a) to reflect the requirement that an opinion on the matter of ex-gratia payments is to be provided by its Legal Support Office of Bureau of Management rather than that by the United Nations Office of Legal Affairs.

The requirement that an opinion on the matter of ex-gratia payments must be provided by the Office of Legal Affairs of the UN Secretariat is a remnant from the revision of UNDP's Financial Regulations and Rules which took place in January of 2000. At that time UNDP did not have its own legal office, which was created in August of 2000. UNDP is therefore correcting its Rule 123.01 (a) to reflect that an opinion on the matter of ex-gratia payments should be provided by the Legal Support Office of UNDP.

The Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (ACABQ) has recommended the approval of these proposed amendments to the Financial Regulation 23.01 and Financial Rule 123.01 (a).

Elements of a decision

The Executive Board may wish to: (a) agree to the proposed change in Financial Regulation 23.01 and (b) take note of the change in Financial Rule 123.01.

I. Introduction

1. Ex-gratia payments are payments which are made where there is no legal liability to UNDP, but the moral obligation justifies making such payments, which are in the interest of UNDP. In the aftermath of the bombing in Algiers it was evident to UNDP that there may well be circumstances where UNDP will be faced with the need to make ex-gratia payments in the future. In some cases these payments may need to exceed the limit currently established in our Financial Regulations and Rules. UNDP feels that should a crisis occur, it would be important to be able to respond appropriately, while disclosing these payments in the submission of UNDP financial statements (schedule 3) to the United Nations General Assembly and to the Executive Board.

II. Proposed amendments

2. This paper serves the purpose of requesting the Executive Board for approval of an amendment to UNDP Financial Regulation 23.01 to permit it to make ex-gratia payments in excess of the current limit of $50,000. This paper also informs the Executive Board that UNDP is changing its Financial Rule 123.01 (a). An opinion on the matter of ex-gratia payments will be provided by the UNDP Legal Support Office in the Bureau of Management, rather than by the United Nations Office of Legal Affairs. For the proposed text of Financial Regulation 23.01 and Financial Rule 123.01 (a), please refer to the annex, 'Proposed amendments to the financial regulations and rules'.

III. Justification for amendments

3. Currently, UNDP Financial Regulation 23.01 states that "[t]he Administrator may make such ex-gratia payments not exceeding $50,000 as he/she deems to be necessary in the interest of UNDP, provided that a statement of such payments shall be submitted to the General Assembly and the Executive Board with the financial statements." This Regulation has been interpreted as covering cumulative approvals for a 12-month period.

4. UNDP is requesting Executive Board approval of the amendment to its Financial Regulation 23.01 so as to remove the limit of $50,000 for ex-gratia payments.

5. Financial Regulation 23.01 relating to ex-gratia payments in excess of the $50,000 limit has not been changed since the Financial Regulations and Rules were revised in 2000. At that time, the limit for making ex-gratia payments was increased from $40,000 to $50,000. The present limit on ex-gratia payments has meant that, in certain instances, UNDP has been unable to make payments in cases where it has no legal liability, but the moral obligation makes the payments justifiable. UNDP should be able to show compassion when addressing such cases.

6. While the current UNDP and UNFPA Financial Regulations contain a financial limitation on ex-gratia payments, the financial regulations of the United Nations Secretariat, the United Nations Children's Fund and the World Food Programme

(WFP) contain no such limitation. With the proposed amendment, UNDP seeks to harmonize its approach with those of the other Funds and Programmes. UNFPA, too, is in the process of harmonizing its Financial Regulations with respect to the limit of ex-gratia payments.

7. UNDP does not expect the proposed change to result in a significant financial impact for UNDP over a period of time, given the low number of such payments that UNDP has had to address to date. As in the past, the payments would be included in the submission of UNDP financial statements (schedule 3) to the United Nations General Assembly and the Executive Board.

8. Financial Rule 123.01 (a), states that "ex-gratia payments may be made in cases where, although in the opinion of the United Nations Office of Legal Affairs there is no legal liability on UNDP, the moral obligation is such as to make payment desirable in the interest of UNDP."

9. UNDP would like to inform the Executive Board that it is changing its Financial Rule 123.01 (a) to reflect the requirement that an opinion on the matter of ex-gratia payments should be provided by its Legal Support Office of Bureau of Management rather than that by the United Nations Office of Legal Affairs.

10. Financial Rule 123.01 (a) reflecting the requirement that an opinion on the matter of ex-gratia payments should be provided by the United Nations Office of Legal Affairs is a remnant from the revision of the UNDP Financial Regulations and Rules that was made in January of 2000. At that time UNDP did not have its own legal office, which was created in August of 2000. UNDP is now correcting Rule 123.01 to reflect that an opinion on the matter of ex-gratia payments should be provided by its Legal Support Office. With this amendment, UNDP is harmonizing its Financial Regulations and Rules with those of WFP, which contain no reference to the United Nations Office of Legal Affairs.

11. UNDP will continue the current internal clearance process for making ex-gratia payments. Requests for ex-gratia payments will continue to be cleared by the Assistant Administrator, Bureau of Management, following (a) a review by the Office of Finance and Administration and (b) an opinion from the Legal Support Office, prior to the Administrator's deciding to make such payments. All ex-gratia payments will continue to be the subject of audits by internal and external auditors.

12. The above proposed amendments have been shared with internal and external auditors (the Office of Audit and Investigations and the United Nations Board of Auditors respectively). Neither party has any objection to the changes.

13. UNDP has also discussed these proposed amendments with the ACABQ, which has recommended approval of the proposed amendments to the Financial Regulation 23.01 and Financial Rule 123.01 (a) regarding ex-gratia payments (see DP/2008/42).

14. UNDP and UNFPA are harmonizing their Financial Regulations with respect to ex-gratia payments in accordance with the amendments described above.

Annex
Proposed amendments to the financial regulations and rules

Note: Text in italics indicates proposed additions to the regulations and rules; proposed deletions have been struck through.

Regulation 23.01:

The Administrator may make such ex gratia payments ~~not exceeding $50,000~~ as he/she deems to be necessary in the interest of UNDP, provided that a statement of such payments shall be submitted to the General Assembly and the Executive Board with the financial statements.

Rule 123.01:

(a) Ex gratia payments may be made in cases where, in the opinion of the United Nations Development Programme Legal Support Office, there is no clear legal liability on the part of the United Nations Development Programme and where such payments are in the interest of the United Nations Development Programme.
